

Journal of the Department of English

Vidyasagar University

The Department of English welcomes articles on literary, critical and cultural studies, written in English, preferably below 4000 words in length, with an abstract (below 300 words), key words, end notes (if any) and a list of works cited.

Reviews of books on English studies published in recent times, along with the permission of the copyright holder / legal heir, in less than 1500 words, shall be considered for publication.

Translations of Bhasa literature into English, along with the permission of the copyright holder / legal heir, shall also be received.

The submissions should be formatted according to MLA style (seventh / eighth edition). A brief CV of the author should be attached separately with each submission. The submissions will be sent for blind peer review.

All submissions should be sent to the Chief Editor in the softcopy version at the email address mentioned in the call for submissions. Hardcopies should be sent to the address mentioned in the call for submissions in the Vidyasagar University website.
